Cugher Glass S.r.l.

Follow the company

Description:

Cugher was among the first companies in the world to automate the screen printing process on flat glass. Ever since, the constant innovation, research and development are the distinctive features of our business.

Cugher was founded in Milan in the early 70's by the Curti and Gherardi families. The management decided to invest in technology and resources in order to empower the strive for engineering excellence and innovation which was incorporated in the DNA of Cugher. Entrepreneurship spirit and continuous innovation process quickly led the company to success. Soon after the launch of the first semi-automatic machines for screen printing on glass, textile, electronics and household items, new projects for automotive printing machines and fully automated lines were developed.

Cugher quickly became a guarantee for quality worldwide. In 2000 the company was acquired by the Mazza family. The new management implemented new business strategy with focus on the flat glass industry, new resources, investments and a strong emphasis on research and development. Since 2005 the core business of Cugher is the commissioning of complete screen printing lines for the automotive industry. Thanks to its close cooperation with leading automotive glass fabricators, over the years Cugher has strengthened its ability to anticipate customer's needs. Today it is recognized as one of the most innovative and technologically advanced producers of screen printing solutions in the world.
