Glass Open Book

One Day Glass

Custom Fabricated Glass by One Day Glass

Description:

One Day Glass is a division of Peninsula Glass.

Whether you are a contractor looking at large orders, or a home owner just trying to complete a project around the house, we provide custom glass, just as our name says: in as little as One Day.

Not only can we ship your order in a day, often it is cheaper for us to ship it to your door than for you to have the work done at your local glass shop. As a division of The Peninsula Glass Company, One Day Glass has been in business for more than 30 years. Although our headquarters are located in Vancouver, Washington, USA, we have been providing excellent service all over the United States and across the world.

Through the use of our state of the art tools, including our water jet and automatic cutting table, we assure highly accurate finished dimensions. While our cutting methods (by hand, automatic cutting table and water jet) provide measurements surpassing industry standards, the water jet produces such precision that surpasses anything on the market. This attention to detail, only second to our customer service, is top notch.

Our tools and techniques ensure our ability to produce many highly unique projects. When your local glass company can’t do a job – do what they do – call us.

Follow the company

Location: United States

Sectors: Flat / Float glass, Glass processing

Activities: Service provider, Glass processor

Contact information

Website: onedayglass.com